Are you interested in the conservation of the Earth's biological diversity? Would you like to meet like-minded people and hear about the work being done in the Sydney Region and beyond?

Conservation Café is a monthly event hosted by the Sydney Society for Conservation Biology to celebrate and learn about the incredible work being done by our region's conservation professionals and volunteers over a cup of coffee and a chat.

This August, Sydney-SCB welcomes Professor Emma Johnston, an Australian Research Fellow at the University of New South Wales and inaugural Director of the Sydney Harbour Research Program at the Sydney Institute of Marine Science. Emma investigates the ecology of human impacts in marine systems. She combines the disciplines of ecology, ecotoxicology and invasion biology in an exciting research program that expands our fundamental understanding and provides recommendations for management. Her research is conducted in such diverse field environments as Antarctica, the Great Barrier Reef and temperate Australian estuaries. You might know Emma from the Foxtel/BBC television series "Coast Australia", which she co-presented.
