Are you interested in the conservation of the Earth's biological diversity? Would you like to meet like-minded people and hear about the work being done in the Sydney Region and beyond?

Conservation Café is a monthly event hosted by the Sydney Society for Conservation Biology to celebrate and learn about the incredible work being done by our region's conservation professionals and volunteers over a cup of coffee and a chat.

This September, Sydney-SCB welcomes Professor Richard Kingsford, the Director of the Centre for Ecosystem Science at UNSW. Richard's research is focussed on the waterbirds, wetlands and rivers of arid Australia, which cover about 70% of the continent. He has identified the significant impacts of water resource development on the rivers and wetlands of the Murray-Darling Basin and other parts of the world and he has contributed to policy development and environmental flow management. He is a member of the Australian Government's Environmental Flows Scientific Committee and is the current president of the Oceania Section of the Society for Conservation Biology. Richard will talk to us about the CONSERVATION OF OUR RIVERS AND WETLANDS – THE CRITICAL MIX OF SCIENCE, POLICY AND MANAGEMENT.
